

ILLINOIS TOWN RESENTFUL OF WORLD'S STAND

Holds Own People Blameless in Wholesale Murders

OPERATOR BLAMED

Coroner's Jury Renders Its Report In Deaths of 21 Miners

Herrin, Ill., June 26.—Bitter resentment against the outside world smoldered in bloodstained Herrin today.

Having "fittin'ly" buried its dead, fixed to its own satisfaction responsibility for the wholesale slaughter of lives last Thursday and having determined that its own people are blameless and shall not be punished, grim little Herrin is becoming more and more convinced that the world "does not understand" and Herrin resented it.

Herrin, according to its mayor, A. T. Pace, courts an "open and fair investigation" but blames Lester.

On all sides Lester—William J. Lester, president of the Southern Illinois Coal Company—is referred to most bitterly, in terms of extreme hatred. The coroner's jury, rendered its report in the deaths of the 21 known dead, expressed the community sentiment in the following verdict.

"We the jury find from the evidence that the deaths of the deceased were due to the actions, direct and indirect, of the officials of the Southern Illinois Coal Company. We recommend that an investigation be conducted for the purpose of fixing the blame personally on the individuals responsible."

The inquest itself was an illuminating illustration of Herrin's position toward punishing the guilty. Of the dozen witnesses called, none of them knew any one who took part in the massacre. The aged and weather-beaten coroner William McGowan, constantly referred to the slaughter of lives as "the circumstance." On one occasion he said to a witness "of course, you don't know who fired the shots." The witness promptly said he did not.

Chief of Police Robert Herring, like other witnesses, knew only what happened by hearsay.

Some surprise was occasioned by the fact that the coroner did not subpoena Sheriff Melvin Traxton, who had insisted that he could control the situation without outside help.

Colonel Samuel Hunter, Governor Small's personal representative, was the most important witness. He told of how he had been sent five days before the massacre to investigate the reported menacing situation; how he had been halted by armed guards on the public highway near the Southern Illinois Coal Company mines; how he had informed C. K. (Peggy) McDowell, superintendent of the mine, that the guards were inciting trouble; how he had searched the premises and found many guns, and much ammunition, but no machine guns, as reported. He said he reported the situation to the attorney general's office.

The jury found that George Henderson, strike leader, first man to be killed in the conflict, "met death from gunshot wounds at the hands of C. K. McDowell."

Less than a dozen spectators attended the inquest.

The public likewise displayed little interest in the burial Sunday morning of the sixteen slain non-union workers. The miners in town watched indifferently the moving of the bodies from the morgue. When the plain black caskets, numbered from one to sixteen, as were the graves, were taken from the ambulance trucks at the cemetery there were only about 25 persons grouped about the freshly dug graves.

AMERICAN STILL HELD PRISONER IN MEXICO

Federal Troops to Make Search for U. S. Citizen, Former Chief of Bureau of Investigation of Justice Department

Mexico City, June 26.—A. Bruce Bielaski, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, who was kidnapped, supposedly by bandits, between Cuernavaca and the Caves of Cacahuamilpa, is still being held a prisoner, according to all indications. No word has been received of his release.

Federal troops have been ordered to make a search for the American. The kidnapers are said to have demanded 10,000 pesos ransom.

Mr. Bielaski was in Mexico on a mission for an American oil company of which he is president.

Money to pay the 10,000 pesos, to the bandits who kidnapped A. Bruce Bielaski, the American and Julius Barcenas, a Mexican attorney near Cuernavaca, was rushed to the scene of the holdup today by motor car.

President Obregon, upon being informed of the kidnapping, ordered the war office to instruct the commander of the federal garrison at Cuernavaca to pursue the bandits. Friends of Bielaski and Barcenas asked that the order be held up until after the ransom was paid in order to assure the safety of the captives.

CHARGES HEAVY ADDITIONAL TAX RESULT OF BILL

Underwood Says Attempt Made to Prevent Exposure of Expense

SEEK TO LIMIT DEBATE

Republicans Renew Charge That Democrats Conduct Filibuster.

Washington, June 26.—While administration leaders were going forward today with their latest plan to limit debate on the tariff bill, Senator Underwood, Alabama, Democratic leader accused them of seeking to prevent a complete exposure of the heavy additional taxation he declared the measure would impose upon the "things the people eat and wear."

"It is strange, after the tariff bill has been before the senate 11 weeks, the Republican side should suddenly become anxious to invoke a cloture, or restriction of debate, when discussion of the outrageously high prices on meat, sugar, wool and other necessities is about to begin," said Senator Underwood.

"The Democratic side, by compelling extensive debate on the bill so far has directed widespread attention to some of its most iniquitous phases but emphasis yet to be placed upon what some rightly consider its worst provisions—those which are aimed to increase living costs and taxation and force the people to pay more for food and clothing."

Senator Watson, of Indiana, was among the administration spokesmen who said they were not "afraid to have the country pass judgment" on the tariff bill and were willing to have it passed without further delay.

The Republican leaders renewed their charge that the Democrats were conducting a filibuster against the bill. The Democrats in vigorously denying the charge, declared their only purpose was to prevent the measure from being "railroaded" through the senate without the fullest publicity being shed upon it.

FORDNEY TO RETIRE FROM POLITICS

Washington, June 26.—Joseph W. Fordney, Representative in congress from the eighth district of Michigan and chairman of the house ways and means committee, announced today he would retire from politics at the end of his present term on March 4, 1923, after 24 years service in the house.

"I am tired of work," Fordney said in making the announcement for the coming retirement, "I need a rest. I am 59 years old and I have been in congress for 24 years and served four years in the city council of Saginaw. I have done what I could for my people. Now I want to devote some time to my family. I want to stop working for a while."

Fordney was born in Blackford county Indiana. He was engaged in the lumber business before entering politics and is rated as a multi-millionaire.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS AT WILSON FUNERAL

London, June 26.—Honored with the highest military honors, the British empire can bestow, Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, former chief of the British imperial general staff, who was assassinated last Thursday, was buried at noon today in the field marshal's corner of St. Paul's.

Three thousand soldiers took part in the ceremonies, first forming a guard of honor about the Wilson home in Eaton Place, then accompanying the body to St. Paul's cathedral. A firing squad from the field marshal's old Ulster regiment fired a volley over the grave.

Despite rainy weather thousands of persons lined the streets between Eaton Place and St. Paul's, standing reverently bareheaded as the cortege passed.

Elaborate precautions had been taken by Scotland Yard and the war office to guard against disorders and to protect the lives of officials. Many members of the cabinet attended.

PARADE LEADS TO ARRESTS

Myria, June 26.—A pajama parade at the Ohio hotel here resulted in the arrest and a $16 fine each for Raleigh Ginn and Leslie Smith, of Myria, and Misses May Joyce and Virginia Denton, tailresses, of Youngstown.

JAPANESE COUNCIL TAKES UP LAST OF U. S. TREATIES

Tokio, June 26.—The privy council today took up the last of the Washington conference treaties—the nine power pact and the China tariff agreement. These will be ratified Saturday and the regent will ratify all of the conference treaties on Sunday about the time Secretary of the Navy Denby and a party of American naval officials arrive at Yokohama to visit Japan. Premier Kato probably will make the announcement of ratification in greeting Secretary Denby.

CREW OF WRECKED SCHOONER LANDS AFTER VESSEL LOST

Halifax, June 26.—Fifteen of the 16 missing members of the crew of the wrecked Gloucester schooner Puritan have landed at Lahave, on the mainland, about 100 miles from Sable Island, where the vessel was lost, according to word received here today. Christopher Johnson of Gloucester, the one man unaccounted for is believed to have lost his life when a dory capsized as the crew was leaving the Puritan.

U. S. MAKES ITS FIRST MOVE TO END STRIKE

Threats of Nation-Wide Tie-Up Spurs Officials To Action

LEWIS IN CAPITAL

Harding Plans to Bring Miners and Operators Together.

Washington, June 26.—Confronted with threats of a nation-wide tie-up of both mines and railroads on July 1 and the possibility of a coal famine within a few weeks, the administration today made its first definite move to end the strike of 500,000 miners which began nearly three months ago.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America is in Washington for a conference with Secretary of Labor Davis to discuss the government's plan of action, establishing peace in the coal industry. Davis will endeavor to learn from Lewis the conditions under which the striking coal miners would negotiate with the operators.

It is the plan of President Harding through Secretary Davis to bring the miners and operators together voluntarily without resorting to compulsory arbitration as demanded by members of congress who are up "in arms" as a result of the mine killings at Herrin, Ills.

It was understood Lewis was prepared to turn down any proposal that did not provide for a national conference to settle the strike or a joint conference in the central competitive field.

HAITI OCCUPATION JUSTIFIED, REPORT TO SENATE AVERS

Committee Investigates the Charges Against Rule of Marines

Washington, June 26.—American military occupation of Haiti was completely justified in a report submitted to the senate today by a committee which visited the island republic to investigate serious charges brought against the rule of U. S. Marines.

The report made by Senator McCormick, Republican of Illinois declared American occupation of the island "was absolutely necessary" to uphold the Monroe doctrine and to prevent military intervention by Germany and France. The committee urged retention of marines in Haiti but asserted military courts should be abolished.

The landing of marines, the report states, ended chronic anarchy in the republic and brought law and order to the island for the first time in its history. The occupation, it was contended, should be maintained until the natives were capable of self government.

Charges of illegal executions by marines were partly supported by the committee submitting evidence of ten such killings. The committee also declared there was evidence of innocent Haitians being slain in marine attacks but the blame was placed on the failure of the fighting.

Touching on charges of torture and cruelties, said to have been inflicted by marines, the committee exonerated the American forces, declaring there was "grave doubt" of their guilt.

"To the credit of our country nearly all of the marines performed their duties admirably" said the report.

Continuance Of Coal Strike Menaces Nation's Business

Complete Paralysis of Industry and Transportation Predicted if Tie-up Continues Many More Weeks—Problems to Be Solved.

Providence, R. I., June 26.—Complete paralysis of the nation's industry and transportation will be the natural outcome of the impending coal shortage if the strike of bituminous miners, continues for many weeks more, George Otis Smith of ashington director of the United States geological survey declared in an address here today.

Despite the seriousness of the present situation, Smith asserted there were fundamental problems of the coal industry more insistent of solution.

"Clear up the economics of the coal business," he said, "and a lasting settlement of the labor controversy would become a possibility."

Deposed President of South China Republic To Fight

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Will Give Up Life Rather Than Submit To Forceful Abdication, He Declares In Interview.

Canton, China, June 24.—(Delayed)—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, deposed as president of the South China Republic, will give up his life rather than submit to forceful abdication, he declared today in an exclusive interview shortly after the news had reached him of the death of Wu Ting Fang, his premier, friend and political associate.

"I am grieved beyond words at the death of Wu Ting Fang," said he. "The shock of the treachery of supposed friends after a life devoted to the upbuilding of China caused his death. I, too, will give my life to the cause of righteousness."

"We fell into a treacherous trap set by our subordinates and as a pa-

U. S. WORKING ON GIANT AIRSHIP

Preparations are well under way at Lakehurst, N. J., for the completion by the Navy of the new giant dirigible ZR-1, rigid type airship designed by American engineers. The new airship was modeled after the German Zeppelin L-49, brought down almost intact in France during the war. It will be 675 feet long, 78½ feet in diameter, with six engines and a speed of 70 miles an hour. Photograph shows view of the immense cradle which forms the base for the construction of the ship at the mooring mast, 150 feet tall, to which it will be tied when out of its hangar.

GERMAN REPUBLIC IN DANGER AS RESULT OF POLITICAL UNREST

State of Siege Prevails With Public Officials Openly Admitting Danger Following Assassination Of Dr. Rathenau.

Berlin, June 26.—With a state of siege prevailing today and public officials openly admitting that the German Republic is in danger as a result of political unrest resulting from the assassination of foreign Secretary Water Rathenau, the government is moving with vigor and with speed in rounding up all monarchist and military plotters.

It was learned that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, former chief of staff in the imperial German army, arrived at Potsdam to visit Prince Eitel Friedrich, son of the former Kaiser, although officials do not connect Hindenburg in any way with the agitation against the Republic.

General Eschrich, former commander of the Republican security police and his staff, were guests at the Kaiserhof hotel, but are understood to have departed for some unknown destination.

The whole city is in mourning while final arrangements are under way for a public funeral for the late foreign secretary.

The assassins have not yet been captured, but the frontier guards have been ordered to take special precautions and the police said they did not believe the killers could get out of the country unless they used an airplane.

Efforts are being made to have the socialists call off the general strike which was ordered to begin tomorrow in protest against the assassination.

In the Reichstag building where Dr. Rathenau's body will lie in state tomorrow the late foreign secretary's desk is covered with a huge wreath and his chair is decorated with mourning ribbons.

"The safety of the German Republic is at stake because the murderers have accomplices and have an organization in Germany," said President Paul Loeb of the Reichstag, in delivering a eulogy. "Dr. Rathenau was a true servant of the public but he died at the hands of murderers."

Chancellor Wirth wept as he paid his tribute to the slain statesman.

"Dr. Rathenau was a noble character," declared the chancellor. "He was a fighter in the cause of humanity and conciliation and he even won the respect of our enemies at Genoa."

"German workers, protect the republic—our beloved fatherland! Gentlemen of the Right, (nationalists) I warn you against going any farther."

"It is now understood that the assassins fled in a motor car taking a northeastern direction from Berlin. A huge reward has been ordered for their capture."

The assassination of Dr. Rathenau has had a profound effect upon economics as well as politics. The German mark has depreciated still further in value and now it is possible to buy 355 marks for one American dollar.

Eleven members of an alleged secret organization were arrested here during the day in connection with political agitations connected with the assassination.

MRS. LEN O. SMALL WIFE OF ACQUITTED GOVERNOR, IS DEAD

End Follows Attack Soon After Husband Freed of Charge

Kankakee, Ill., June 26.—Mrs. Ida Moore Small, wife of Len O. Small, governor of Illinois, died at her home here today. Mrs. Small was surrounded by her family when the end came. The governor, wearied by the strain of his recent trial at Waukegan sat crushed and broken at his wife's bedside. He had refused to eat or sleep during the night.

The governor's wife was stricken late Saturday after her return from Waukegan where she had heard the verdict of the jury that acquitted her husband of charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds. Death was caused by a combined stroke of apoplexy and paralysis that was preceded by the breaking of a blood vessel.

Governor and Mrs. Small returned here late Saturday after a jury at Waukegan had vindicated the governor of charges of conspiring to defraud the state of hundreds of thousands of dollars of interest funds. They were joyously greeted by hundreds of citizens of Kankakee, where they have lived ever since their marriage.

After the reception given them, Mrs. Small suddenly collapsed. Physicians were summoned and it was found that a blood vessel in the brain had broken. She sank into a state of coma and physicians immediately said there was scant hope for her recovery.

Physicians directly attributed her death to the strain under which she labored during the indictment and trial of Governor Small.

Gov. Small and their children were at the bedside when death came. Physicians feared that the shock of his wife's death following the ordeal of his trial might also prove too great for the governor to endure.

The jury which rendered a verdict of acquittal to Governor Small Saturday was out one hour and five minutes.

How many ballots they took is in question, different reports ranging from two to nine.

Following announcement of the verdict, three hundred spectators were on their feet. Many poured over the railing and into the bar enclosure. Men shouted and whistled while women laughed, cried or clapped their hands.

The governor, Mrs. Small, his sister, Miss Sue Small and his children, Leslie, and Mrs. Jack Ingles, forced their way through the throng and thanked the jurors one by one.

GOVERNOR ISSUES CALL FOR SESSION

Columbus, June 26.—Governor Davis late Saturday issued a call for a special session of the general assembly beginning Monday, July 17, for the two-fold purpose of enacting legislation looking to the submission of an additional bond issue to meet claims of ex-service men for adjusted compensation not covered by the original issue of $25,000,000, and to act on recess appointments.

In providing for the original $25,000,000 bond issue, the general assembly estimated that it would be necessary to make provision for 250,000 claims, averaging $100 each, at the rate of $10 for each month of service. Actual distribution of the fund has shown that while the total number of claims probably will not exceed the number so anticipated, that the average amount of such claims is $137.50, nearly 40 per cent greater than the original estimate.

LOYD GEORGE'S CABINET FACES VIOLENT ATTACK

Attack Launched Against Irish Policy Following Assassination.

MAY WRECK TREATY

Leaders of Tory 'Die Hards' Make Threat to Smash Agreement

London, June 26.—The Lloyd George cabinet this afternoon faced the most violent assault yet launched against its Irish policy as a result of the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson by two Irishmen.

"Leaders of the Tory 'die hards' made open threats to wreck the Anglo-Irish peace agreement, if possible and to bring about the eventual re-occupation of Ireland by British military forces."

Premier Lloyd George, Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill and other members of the cabinet, who participated in the Irish settlement were prepared to fight to the last ditch.

Government whips were active during the morning urging every member of the government party to be in his seat in the event that a "coup might be attempted."

Members of the cabinet during the morning conferred to make their final plans for battle. The debate may last two days.

A new angle was given to the alleged assassination plot by a statement in the press that extremist Irish Americans may have been involved in the conspiracy against the field marshal's life.

Extraordinary police precautions were taken to prevent any demonstration or attack at parliament buildings. The spectators gallery was closed.

SENSATION CAUSED BY HAGUE REPORT OF RESIGNATION

Say Tchitcherin Gives Up Office in Soviet—Was Active Leader

The Hague, June 26.—A sensation was caused here today at the beginning of the real work of the international conference of reconstruction of Russia by a report that George Tchitcherin, peoples' commissar for foreign affairs in the Moscow soviet government, has resigned. Tchitcherin has had complete charge of soviet Russia's international dealings since the present Russian cabinet was formed and was an active leader of the Russian delegation at the Genoa conference.

M. Litvinoff, arrived early in the afternoon, interviewed by the International News Service through the window of his compartment, before leaving the railroad coach, Litvinoff said.

"This is going to be a 'brass tacks' conference. We have come here in perfectly good faith just as we went to Genoa. But we shall not surrender the fundamental principles of the soviet."

"As to Lenin's health, it seems as if a lot of people have been dancing in celebration around a corpse which is still very much alive."

Litvinoff was accompanied by Krestinsky, Russian envoy to Germany; Skolnikoff, Russian commissar for finance, and a number of technicians and secretaries. Leonid Krasin is reported to be in Moscow, on account of the reported resignation of Tchitcherin, while another delegate Rakovitsky, head of the Ukrainian soviet, is still in Berlin.

The Russians were guarded like prisoners by strong detachments of secret service agents. While Litvinoff (who was perfectly willing to converse) was talking to the International News Service correspondent, a detective stepped up and closed the car window in his face.

GRAND OLD MAN OF GREAT LAKES DIES AT HIS HOME

Cleveland, June 26.—Funeral services for Donald C. McIntyre, the "grand old man of the great lakes" who died at his Cleveland Heights home yesterday will be held this afternoon, after which the body will be taken to Alvinston, Ont., his former home, for interment.

Mr. McIntyre who entered the service of the D. and C. Navigation company forty-eight years ago as a watchman, was one of the principal owners of the line at the time of his death.

STETHEM ENTERS NOT GUILTY PLEA; GIRL TELLS STORY

Clark Stethem, 25, former motorcycle policeman on the Xenia department, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before Judge J. Carl Marshall in Juvenile Court Monday morning on a charge of abandonment.

Stethem was arraigned Saturday morning on the warrant charging abandonment sworn out by Mrs. Stethem Friday morning following the former policeman's disappearance Thursday afternoon and he was released from custody on $1,000 bail furnished by relatives as fixed by Judge Marshall Saturday night.

The former policeman has engaged Frank L. Johnson as his attorney and so far has refused to give authorities an account of his actions between Thursday afternoon, when he left Xenia, and Saturday morning, when he returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stethem.

Nellie P. Moore, 16-year-old Central High School girl, and daughter of V. H. Moore, wealthy Fairfield Pike landowner, following repeated questioning by Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, admitted that she was with Stethem, from Thursday afternoon until Saturday, according to authorities.

The girl was locked up Saturday morning after she had returned to this city on a car from Springfield, and after she had refused to tell authorities a straight story when questioned. A charge of delinquency was placed against her and she has since been kept in the county jail, without bond.

According to the story the girl told authorities, she left Xenia on the one o'clock Springfield car Thursday afternoon and met Stethem near Springfield. She said they then proceeded to Bellefontaine, where the car Stethem was driving broke down, and they were delayed four hours in fixing it. She said that she and Stethem spent both Thursday and Friday nights in the automobile and that nothing improper took place. She had originally denied being with Stethem saying she was in Springfield looking for a position.

Stethem will be given a hearing before Judge Marshall Friday morning, the case having been continued until that time.

McDUFFIE CASE IS RETURNED TO COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

The Rev. S. Douglas McDuffie, colored evangelist of the African Methodist Episcopal denomination, stands convicted of sodomy in Common Pleas Court here, as the result of a decision handed down in the Court of Appeals and received here Monday.

The Appellate Court overruled the court of Common Pleas here in granting the defendant his motion in arrest of judgment and remanded the case to the lower court. As a jury in local Common Pleas Court here has already found McDuffie guilty of the charge, the case stands upon the merits of a motion for a new trial.

The case was originally carried up from Police Court last summer, after McDuffie had been arrested in Springfield on warrants sworn out in that court. The action followed a revival conducted at a local colored church for some time last summer by McDuffie. McDuffie was bound over to Common Pleas Court and an indictment returned against him. He afterwards secured bail and left Xenia, but when his bondsmen became afraid that he would jump the bond, they learned of his whereabouts and had him brought back.

McDuffie will now have to return to be sentenced or the state can claim his bond it is said.

During the court actions here, McDuffie defended himself in public revival services and speeches at the Opera House and at the Rink, taking up collections at each service.

BRIDE IS STOLEN FROM WEDDING BY BROTHER

Vancouver, Wash., June 24—With ring, marriage license and sweetheart Richard W. Field appeared before the Rev. A. D. Skaggs here.

When Field later left the parsonage he still had the ring and the marriage license—and a black eye—but no bride.

The groom-to-be was in the very act of placing the ring on the finger of Miss Virginia Griffin when the latter's brother rushed into the room, shouting:

"This marriage shall go no further!"

The brother ordered his sister's lover to "come outside." Field did so and received a wallop in the eye. Then the brother's friend appeared with an automobile, and the two men dragged the near-bride into the machine and speeded away.

Field was left standing on the porch, holding a ring in one hand and a marriage license in the other, and it was only with one eye that he could follow the rapid disappearance of his sweetheart. He was unable to explain the brother's objection to the marriage, which the latter succeeded in preventing by a matter of a couple of seconds.

GERMANY MONEY VALUES BELIEVED TO BE DUE TO ADVANCE

Washington—An American laborer migrating to Germany, would become a millionaire over night by converting his savings into German marks. The German mark is nearer the vanishing point than any other currency, except the almost wholly worthless Russian ruble. The American workman's dollar will buy about 300 German marks.

The greed of German business barons, aided and abetted by Germany's shrewd figures in officialdom, is held chiefly responsible for the wild inflation that has forced the mark to the lowest point in value in history. Financial experts here declare that the German mark has just about reached bottom and is due to rise in value because of the operation of normal economic laws.

Virtually upon the rocks of financial disaster, Germany now must turn in the other direction. It is not because Germany wishes to do that, but the better judgment of leaders of other world Powers are compelling that course.

Causes of Low Money.
The ability of the German merchant to go out into the foreign markets and crowd other traders off the map is due to low production costs in Germany. Every principal industry enjoys either direct or indirect subsidies granted by the Government, enabling production at prices it is impossible to compete against.

Treasury experts have made a comprehensive study of the erratic course taken by the German mark since the war. They find a great divergence between the internal and external values of the mark. Manufacturing costs in Germany depend upon the internal value in Germany. The advantage which the German manufacturer and exporter enjoys over American and other competitors comes from the fact that low internal value of the mark is accentuated by benefits under subsidies which include low transportation rates on the State railways, the grain subsidy, maximum rent laws and export price control.

German Prices Low.

Experts find that, as in all countries with a greatly depreciated currency, the German price level has not risen commensurately with the decline in the gold value of the national currency. This has been true in a great degree in Germany because of artificial regulation of bread prices, rents and public utility rates.

The conclusion is strong in Washington that Germany, in a financial sense has become literally oversaturated with cheap money. The turn in the other direction toward fiscal stability is imminent. This can only be achieved by slowing down the fast money printing presses and by recognition of the fact that wild inflation can only end in economic disaster—and Germany's better thinking business men are said to be eager for a change that will restore Germany's financial prestige.

LEONARD TO SEEK WELTERWEIGHT TITLE

New York, June 26.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, will go after the welterweight title tonight in meeting Jack Britton, champion of the latter division, in a fifteen round bout to a decision at the New York Velodrome. Odds of 6 to 5 are being offered that Leonard will be a double champion by midnight, in spite of Britton's declaration that he is, in the best of condition and will surely land the decision.

Britton must make the welterweight limit of 147 pounds for the bout and Leonard expects to weigh about 140 pounds, a weight at which he is very strong.

The latter hopes to win by the power of his attack as Britton is admitted to be the better defensive fighter and ring general and Leonard by long odds the harder puncher. Benny will be further aided by the knowledge that he cannot lose his lightweight title, even if knocked out.

FIVE CHINESE INJURED

Cleveland, June 26.—George Loang Fook, a Chinese cook from Columbus, is in a hospital under police guard with his throat cut, and four other Chinese are injured, two of them so seriously that they may die, the result of Fook running amuck early yesterday morning armed with a hatchet and butcher knife. At the hospital he told police that he had lost all of his $400 savings except $6 in gambling.

XENIANS INTERESTED IN CALIFORNIA WEDDING.

Copies of Los Angeles papers carry accounts of the marriage last Thursday, of Miss Claribel Constant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Constant of Azusa, California, formerly of Los Angeles, and granddaughter of Mr. Louis Bocklet of this city, to Mr. Robert Franklin Johnson, Jr., of Hollywood.

The wedding service was read in the gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Justus Kraft, old friends of the Constant family, by the Rev. William Carson Shaw, rector of the Sierra Madre Church of the Ascension, before an improvised altar in a picturesque rustic arbor and in the presence of 100 guests.

The bride was attended by Miss Delia Martin of Sierra Madre as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Kraft, Miss Elsa Kraft of Sierra Madre, Miss Josephine Crane of Redlands and Miss Frances Wood of Alhambra. Mr. Harold R. Smith of Los Angeles was Mr. Johnson's best man, and the ushers were Messrs. John Lauder of Covina, Victor Hill of Sierra Madre, Roy Fiske of Los Angeles and Girard Battelle of Altadena. A reception followed the wedding, including a buffet supper and dancing.

The bride is a graduate of the Hollywood High School and of the University of South California, college of oratory, and she has also been associated with the Hollywood Community Players. She has frequently visited here and has many friends in this city. Mr. Johnson was formerly a student at Columbia University, and served 16 months overseas, later being the director of the Hospital of Hope in New York. They will spend their honeymoon on a motoring trip and will be at home to their friends July 15 at 1102 Fuller Avenue, Hollywood.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS AT HOME ON SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tate, of West Third street, entertained the following guests Sunday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grimm and daughter, Josephine, of Springfield; Mrs. Josephine Grimm and son Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Habb, of McKay's Station; Mrs. Olga Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and family, of Dayton, and Miss Beech, of Kentucky.

Mr. Hudson is traffic officer at the corner of Third and Main street in Dayton, and Mr. Miller is manager of the linotype offices in Riverside.

ENTERTAIN AT FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Linkhart, of Chestnut street, entertained at a pretty appointed family dinner Sunday, covers being laid for Mrs. Mary Linkhart, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ellis, of near Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stauffer, of near Alpha, Mr. Ralph Stauffer, Mr. Harper Linkhart, Mr. George Stauffer, and Mrs. Laura Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wolf arrived, Friday night, from the east where they enjoyed a week's sojourn. They visited Atlantic City, where Mr. Wolf attended an air brake convention, and went from there to New York City, and Philadelphia.

George Geyer is in Milford, Massachusetts, where he will spend a week on business for the George Dods Marble Company.

J. Perry Shumaker, former Xenian, who is now superintendent of construction in the Ohio State Highway Department, with headquarters at Columbus, spent the week end with relatives here. Mrs. Shumaker and children are visiting relatives at Lafayette, Ind.

OVER 1,500 TEACHERS ARE AT CEDAR POINT MEETING

Cedar Point, June 26.—More than 1,500 school teachers are here for the 75th annual meeting of the Ohio State Teachers Association which will be in augmented with a banquet tonight.

Registration headquarters, established yesterday, are in charge of F. J. Reynolds, Wapakoneta, secretary of the association.

A fight to put through a new constitution which it is contended will give the rank and file more voice in the affairs of the organization, was begun this morning. If the new constitution, a draft of which will be presented during the first convention session tomorrow is ratified, the present officers will hold over until the midwinter meeting.

MILE. LENGLEN UNDECIDED

Wimbledon, Eng., June 26.—Mile. Suzanne Lenglen has not yet indicated whether or not she will compete in the world's championship tennis singles which begin this afternoon. Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, Elizabeth Ryan, Edith Sigourney and Eleanor Goss, all Americans will participate with stars of ten other nations. The king will be present when play is begun. G. Collett Caner and A. B. Craven, are the only Americans entered in the men's singles.

STEAMER IS ASHORE

Marseilles, June 26.—The United States shipping board steamer Schoharie, 5,000 tons, was reported ashore off Terschelling island, in the North Sea, in a radio call for assistance picked up today by the Marseilles wireless station. Terschelling island lies off the Dutch coast.

PILBUSTER CONTINUES

Washington, June 26.—Representative Voight, Republican of Wisconsin, began the fourth day of his one man filibuster in the house today as soon as it convened. He demanded a roll call and indicated his firm intention of pursuing indefinitely the tactics that have kept the house in a turmoil for the last four days.

J. C. Williamson of North Detroit Street, underwent an operation for appendicitis, at the McClellan Hospital, Friday. He is improving rapidly.

Professor and Mrs. H. C. Aultman and son—Phillip, are leaving Tuesday morning for Cedar Point, Ohio, where they will attend the State School Convention.

C. V. Harness, Miss Alma Harness, and Raper and Donna Harness, spent Sunday in Beach Grove, Ohio, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Terry.

Miss Eleanor McDaniel has accepted a position at the Eavey Wholesale house, entering her duties Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Curtis, of North Collier Street, spent Sunday in Sabina, as the guests of Mr. Curtis' parents.

Mrs. George L. White, of West Market Street, is spending several days in Washington, C. H., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mark.

The Eastern Star covered dish social will be held at the Masonic Hall instead of at the home of E. E. Lighthiser, in case of rain, Tuesday evening.

John Murray, of South Detroit St., who has been ill for some time is improving.

Michael Killeen, of San Jose, Cal., formerly of this city, is visiting relatives in Yellow Springs and spending some time in this city.

Herman Harner, who is a member of the editorial staff of the Journal of Commerce, a daily financial paper of New York City, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. James Harner, of near Xenia for two weeks. He arrived here Saturday.

LOCAL RED MEN HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

Harry Brewer, Past Sachem of Okabobo Tribe, No. 98, of Dayton, delivered the principal address of the program, in connection with the annual memorial services of Wahoo Tribe, No. 41, Improved Order of Red Men, and Zanetta Council, No. 120, Daughters of Pocahontas, held at the Red Men's Hall, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. Brewer spoke concerning the origin of the Red Men's organization, and the principles of the order, and the lodge motto of Freedom, Friendship, Charity and Loyalty, to the dead as well as to the living.

Mrs. Ella Blake, chairman of the occasion, presided over the program, which was opened with the singing of America, by the assemblage. The roll call of the departed members was read by Albert Sherman, and Mrs. Jane Sanders, which was followed by the singing of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

The regular ritualistic program was carried out with the singing of "Sweet By and By," and the draping of the charter was in charge of 10 of the members of the Degree of Pocahontas. The program closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and prayer by the presiding officer.

LUNG MOTOR SAVES LIFE OF INFANT

Dayton, June 26.—Effective use of the lungmotor by Officers Tilton and Johnson of the police department probably saved the life of Milky Abraham, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Abraham, 23 Katherine Street, Monday morning.

The child's mother was washing clothes and had filled a large tub with water. In some manner the child climbed upon the can and fell head foremost, into the water. The mother did not notice the child for a minute and when she rushed to its aid life appeared extinct.

Dr. C. D. Smith, 505 South Main Street, was called. He arrived at the home and immediately called for the police lungmotor. When the officers arrived with the machine the child was in a very serious condition.

The machine was placed in immediate operation and within a short time respiration was restored. Dr. Smith pronounced the child out of danger within a few minutes after artificial respiration was started.

RAIL STRIKE NOW APPEARS CERTAIN

Chicago, June 26.—Strike of 1,200,000 union railroad employees, July 1, appeared certain today as the policy committee of the shopcrafts met here to canvass the strike vote.

The strike call will be sent out Thursday ordering the men to walk out Saturday according to best available information.

The vote of the eleven railroad unions affected with the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor has been overwhelmingly in favor of a walkout in preference to acceptance of wage cuts, and working rule revision ordered by the United States Rail Labor board.

Moves by the board to avert one of the causes for a strike by ordering railroads to cease letting out work under contract will not prevent a walkout, union leaders indicated.

GHASTLY COST OF WORLD WAR BROUGHT HOME TO SAN FRANCISCO IN MEETING

Ten Thousand Delegates Attend Second Annual Convention of Disabled Veterans of World War Monday

San Francisco, June 26.—The ghastly cost at which the world war was won was brought startlingly home to San Francisco as the last of the 10,000 delegates to the second annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War arrived for the opening session.

Minus arms, legs, here and there a sightless one, the boys who were America's pride such a short time ago met to demand that justice be done those who paid with their bodies and health for victory.

Governor Stephens welcomed the "buddies" at the first session of the convention today.

"The living hall of fame," including the greatest hero of each state brought to San Francisco a modest bunch of young men. But for the fact that their comrades acclaimed them and pinned to their breasts medals attesting their acts of valor, a quieter, less talkative company of men could not be found.

Colonel Charles R. Forbes head of the U. S. veterans bureau was here to tell of the rehabilitation work the government is doing and defend in person the activities of the government in behalf of its sacred charges.

He said the government now has 109,000 men in school and 31,000 in hospitals. So far 17,000 have been rehabilitated. The peak of hospital cases, he added will not be reached until 1926 when it was expected 42,000 cases will be under the care of the government.

Efforts are under way to secure a Carnegie Hero Medal for Miss Mary Buhner, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who held her chum, Miss Dorothy McClatchie, afloat half an hour after the latter had been fatally bitten by a giant barracuda, known as the "tiger of the sea."

The extremely dry weather and the highly combustible condition of the cut grain caused fires to break out easily from sparks from passing locomotives, causing serious property loss.

The fire department was called out twice Saturday afternoon, the most serious fire of this nature being in the wheat field owned by P. H. Flynn and Son, adjacent to North Detroit street and east of the right of way of the Springfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, where ten or 15 acres of wheat in shock burned up.

The fire department used 900 feet of hose in reaching the fire across the fields, from the last water plug in that vicinity, and the work of the department was supplemented by a Pennsylvania railroad locomotive sent from the yards, which fought the fire at points the department could not reach. Returning from the Flynn fire, the department stopped on North Detroit street near the Ormsby addition, where sparks had set fire to grass burned dry by the hot sun.

The Flynn alarm was the second sent, in within a short time Saturday afternoon, the first call being to the home of Joseph Hagler, 217 Fairground Avenue, where sparks from a rubbish pile set fire to an alfalfa field adjoining and also damaged a chicken house before the arrival of the fire department.

On the T. C. Wolford farm on the Jamestown pike, between 65 and 75 shocks of wheat were consumed when a fire which is believed started from a locomotive, broke out in the field. Fires along the railroad right of ways in all sections of the county were reported Saturday and Sunday, although in a majority of cases the fires burned themselves out in the dry grass and weeds along the tracks.

MRS. A. P. GOWDY CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Anna Pennington Gowdy, widow of Albert Gowdy, well known to many in this city, died at the I. O. O. F. Home in Springfield, at noon Sunday.

Mrs. Gowdy had been a patient at the hospital at the fraternal home, for the past three years, suffering from rheumatic trouble. With the exception of one sister, no near relatives survive.

Interment will be made at Woodland cemetery this city, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

PRINCE ALBERT I OF MONACO DIES

Paris, June 26.—Prince Albert I, of Monaco, which consists principally of Monte Carlo, the greatest gambling center in the world, died today following a long illness. He amassed a fortune of many millions from his gambling concessions.

Authorize Bond Issue
Columbus, June 26.—Announcement was made today by the State Utilities Commission of their authorization of the issuance and sale of $1,700,000 worth of 6 per cent first and refunding mortgage bonds by the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Company for the purpose of replacing outstanding bonds and to reimburse the company treasury for funds expended on improvements.

GIRL'S COMPANION ARRESTED
Cincinnati, June 26.—Frank Ortleb, chief of the Dayton, Ky., police and censor of Ohio river bathing beaches there, arrested Clarence Walker, of Covington on Sunday for disorderly conduct following official criticism of a bathing suit worn by Walker's "lady friend." Ortleb would not arrest the girl or make her leave the beach, but forbade her to enter the water. The crowd cheered his ruling.

HAWAII GRIPPED BY RADIO RAGE

Honolulu, T. H., June 26.—All Hawaii has gone "radio crazy!"

The craze for radiophones which is sweeping the mainland of the United States has now reached the islands. 2,000 miles out in the Pacific. Companies handling the new apparatus report that they are unable to satisfy the demand for outfits, or even to keep within reasonable distance of their orders, which are now piled so high that at least six months will be required to fill all of them without allowing for new orders which will come in meanwhile.

In Honolulu and Hilo, the two leading cities of the Territory, radio clubs have been organized, with large memberships. Smaller clubs or branches of the two main organizations are being formed in every town and village. Talks and lectures by expert operators feature the weekly meetings of these clubs, which are largely attended and most enthusiastic.

In the daily papers of the various island cities columns of space are devoted to radio instructions and news of the latest innovations, as well as to answering questions asked by amateur operators.

A remarkable feature of the craze as it affects Hawaii is the fact that it has hit not alone the white races but the Hawaiians and Orientals as well, many of the most enthusiastic operators of radiophones being of the last-named races. What the result may be on future aerial conversation is difficult to determine, as the languages involved are numerous and divergent.

U. C. T. CONVENTION OPENS IN COLUMBUS ON MONDAY

Columbus, June 26.—Secretaries and treasurers of the United Commercial travelers grand councils held a meeting here today. Delegates are arriving from all section of the United States and from Canada to attend the annual meeting of the U. C. T. supreme council which opens here tomorrow.

The council is expected to vote $250,000 at the first session for the proposed construction of a new U. C. T. building here, adjoining its present headquarters. More than 300 delegates from the 106,000 members of the organization are expected to attend.

WOMAN IS HELD UP

St. Clairsville, June 26.—Miss Norah Coleman, manager of a local store, was held up and robbed on Marietta street of between $50 and $100, day's receipts at the store. A man grabbed the bag and fled down a dark alley.

The men were held at police headquarters until Monday morning and the case against them dismissed when Blaine Leighley refused to prosecute.

BIG CROWD SEES WHISKAWAY DEFEAT MORVICH AT LATONIA

Latonia Race Track, Latonia, Ky., June 26.—Whiskaway, Harry Payne Whitney's great colt, which a week ago gave Morvich the only defeat of his racing career, repeated that triumph Saturday when he swept past the wire winner of the $50,000 Special Latonia race for three year olds before a record crowd breaking crowd of 50,000 persons.

The chestnut son of Whiskbroom II, defeated the best field the nation could send against him in what probably was the greatest race for three year olds in a decade.

Thibodaux, a rank outsider in the betting, and a Kentucky bred horse, finished second in a driving finish with Whiskaway, crossing the wire a half a length behind the winner. Morvich was third, ten lengths behind Whiskaway. Pillory, winner of the $50,000 Breakneck stakes was fourth and Deadlock was fifth. The mile and a quarter was run in 2:02 4-5 which is within one-fifth of a second of the track record.

MAN FACES CHARGE OF KIDNAPING HIS WIFE

Cincinnati, O., June 26.—Albert "Toots" Marshall, proprietor of the Grand Damsant and the Roadstool Inn, was placed on trial this morning in municipal court charged with kidnaping his wife from the golf links of the Maketewah country club here recently. Mrs. Marshall came to court heavily veiled so that the large crowd could not see her face. Her husband appeared unconcerned.

PUBLISHERS CONVENE

Cleveland, June 26.—Publishers comprising the Ohio Select List of Newspapers met here today for the bi-monthly meeting. Cleveland advertising men were special guests of the organization at a luncheon at the hotel Hollenden. C. N. Craig, publicity manager of the Plain Dealer, discussed "local advertising."

President Fred W. Bush, publisher of the Athens Messenger, presided.

MEDAL FOR GIRL SWIMMER ASKED

Miss Mary Buhner.

Efforts are under way to secure a Carnegie Hero Medal for Miss Mary Buhner, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who held her chum, Miss Dorothy McClatchie, afloat half an hour after the latter had been fatally bitten by a giant barracuda, known as the "tiger of the sea."

DISMISSED FROM COURT ON MONDAY

Lee Leighley and George Puckett, arrested Saturday night and held on a charge of suspicion pending an investigation of a report that they had driven an automobile without the owner's consent, were dismissed from Police Court, Monday morning.

The men were charged with taking a Ford touring car belonging to Leighley's brother, Blaine Leighley, who operates a bus between Xenia and Cedarville, from an alley where it was parked in Cedarville Saturday night. A number of Cedarville men followed the car to this city and notified the police.

The men were held at police headquarters until Monday morning and the case against them dismissed when Blaine Leighley refused to prosecute.

HOME BAND TO ATTEND LEGION PICNIC WEDNESDAY

Among the guests included at the American Legion and Auxiliary picnic at Kil Kare park Wednesday afternoon and evening, will be the thirty piece band from the O. S. and S. O. Home, together with the members of both organizations and their families, and ex-service men with their families.

All women attending the picnic are asked to bring well filled baskets. Supper will be served at six thirty o'clock.

MAN MEETS DEATH WHEN HIT BY CAR

Columbus, June 26.—The lifeless body of Ezra McCooley, 36, formerly of Athens, was found early this morning on a roadside near Canal Winchester about 15 miles from here.

He had evidently been struck by a passing automobile and thrown to the side of the road receiving a broken neck and probably a fractured skull according to Coroner Murphy, who viewed the body. The identity of the driver of the death car is not known.

McCooley had moved to Canal Winchester but a short time ago, to engage in road improvement work. He had been visiting at a nearby neighbor's home and was probably struck by the machine while walking along the road on his way home.

He leaves a wife and four children.

ATTACKED IN HOME WOMAN SUCCUMBS

Columbus, June 26.—Attacked and robbed at her home, 100 1-2 East Goodale street, Mrs. Ruth Lawrence suffered injuries resulting in her death at a local hospital. She implicated Charles (Jack) Arnold, 65, of this city as her alleged assailant. He is being held by police for investigation.

Police authorities said Mrs. Lawrence stated that Arnold entered her home, and without warning brutally knocked her down, choking and kicking her, and then stole her purse, containing $17.50. Arnold admitted that he has served frequent terms in the Ohio penitentiary and the workhouse.

MURDER CHARGE LODGED

London, June 26.—A charge of wilful murder against James Connolly and John O'Brien was returned by the coroner's jury today following the inquest into the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson. Connolly and O'Brien shot the field marshal to death on the doorstep of his home last Thursday.

TAFT FINDS BRITISH JUSTICE QUICKER.

Chief Justice Taft has found in a rather brief, but so far successful, study of the English judiciary system that the methods employed are more expeditious than in either the Federal or State Courts in the United States. The Chief Justice is unwilling yet to intimate what he will recommend to the American Bar Association in August, but in a conversation he let it be known that he thinks many unnecessary delays in litigation in the United States could be obviated by certain changes of procedure.

Mr. Taft has first interested himself in the activities of "the Master of the Court," who is a very important person in England. "One situation which I investigated showed that out of 7000 cases presented less than 600 ever reached the Judge or a jury, and they were so prepared that the actual court procedure required comparatively little time," said Mr. Taft.

The former President then explained that the Master of Court had power to require the prospective litigant to make an affidavit that he honestly believed he could prove the charges he sought to instigate or even had taken the first steps to investigate. This feature, he explained, would prevent many people in the United States from bringing cases which, through delay and other technicalities, can be dragged along until the defendant has lost much even after a just verdict is given.

He also stated that it had been explained to him that in many cases litigants can be induced to compromise through the Master of Court and his assistants without the long drawn out red tape of some courts thereby keeping the court dockets clear and, what is more, enhancing respect for the courts through quick justice.

Justice Taft is also apparently of the opinion that the freedom and incidentally the great powers of Judges in all courts in England result in a great deal of speed and more justice because it allows for the elimination of technicalities.

THE INTERNATIONAL WAR DEBTS.

A new situation is created, with regard to international war obligations, by a notice served on France by Great Britain. The latter announces that she reserves the right to call on France for the interest due on war loans, next fall, when Britain herself pays 25,000,000 pounds interest to the United States. The French interest due Great Britain is said to be about $70,000,000.

France rather expected that Great Britain would cancel that troublesome debt, of which no part has ever been paid, and for which France has never made any plans to pay anything. Britain disappointed that bond shortly before the Genoa conference by formally registering her claim to repayment, though without making any demand. No demand is made now for the interest, but there is a plain warning that it may be wanted.

Thus the powers' war obligations are seen to constitute a chain. If England pays America, France must pay England; and then, of course, Germany must pay France, in the form of the indemnity already arranged. If America collects, therefore, the money collected will come out of Germany directly or indirectly.

Another curious angle of this debt complication is that Germany, apparently, cannot pay, for some time at least without borrowing a lot of money to pay with; and new loans are expected to come mainly from the United States. Thus America will pay money out with one hand and collect it with the other.

What the final outcome will be, nobody knows. The one thing that seems fairly clear is that if anybody pays, everybody will have to pay.

There is the alternative of an all-round forgiveness of war obligation, after the German-Russian example, but that does not seem at all likely. What may happen eventually is a partial cancellation all around, in some fixed proportion.

THE HOVERING AIRPLANE.

Louis Brennan, British inventor, denies that he has built a successful "helicopter," qualifying for the quarter-million-dollar prize offered by the British government. All he has done, he says, is to construct a small model in the shop. It remains to make a practical test of a big model under normal flying conditions.

It may, however, be that Mr. Brennan's invention will really accomplish what his friends have claimed for it. If so, it will be the biggest step toward mastery of the air since the Wright Brothers first flew their gas-engine-driven biplane.

The ordinary plane of today works very well in full flight, its chief difficulties are in rising and landing, especially the latter. Most aviation accidents are landing accidents. The particular merits of the helicopter type of flying machine, in theory at least, are that it can rise straight up in the air, sink straight down to the ground, and hover as well as fly horizontally in the usual manner of airplanes. In other words, it is a sort of mechanical bee, except that it is impelled by a propeller instead of wings.

The value of such qualities should be readily appreciated. With a machine of this kind, command of the air would be immensely increased. Maneuvering would be simplified. Landing fields would be unnecessary. Air machines could be kept in any ordinary back yard, or on any flat roof, rising from it and landing on it without difficulty. Flying would become almost as easy as driving an automobile.

"Hovering" would be the greatest gain of all. It should be worth almost a quarter of a million dollars to anybody to be able to poise in the air, like a bee or humming bird, at any level.

RAILWAY STRIKE IS REPORTED CERTAIN

Chief executives of railway unions, now taking a strike vote, have notified the Railroad Labor Board that a nation-wide strike will begin July 1, if the vote favors the walk-out. The men are voting whether to accept the wage reductions or strike. Photograph shows John Scott, secretary of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, and his aides counting the strike vote of shop craftsmen at union headquarters in Chicago. More than 460,000 ballots were sent out and Mr. Scott says all returned thus far favor a walkout.

The Prayer Of a Tired Worker

I am tired tonight, God. Not discouraged, not overwhelmed with heavy weight of work or worry, nothing like that, God, but just tired, tired.

Sometimes I think that you were made for tired people, God, because tired people are always yearning for love and the kind comfort of a great Mother-Father, such as you always seem to be to everyone, God.

I worked hard today, God. I tried to do my work faithfully and well. I know that I did not do it perfectly, but because I am tired tonight, I am very sure that I gave of what I had, with a sincere desire back of my efforts to make all that I did do worth while. So you will overlook where I failed, won't you, God?

I am tired. But since I tried to do my best, I feel happily tired. Grant unto me, then, God, that I be given sleep and rest—and that the dreams I have, if they come, may be beautiful and full of pleasant pictures.

Lift me into the tomorrows as I sleep, and lay your plans for my usefulness so that when I awake I may go forth in newness and strength, glad of life and living.

Help me go weave and interweave every thought and effort and desire of my own heart into that happy scheme of work and service which, as it is pursued, knits all human effort into one grand and noble plan.

I am very tired, God. But there are others who are much more tired than I. Remember them, God. Rest them, too. Lift them from their discouraged and frightened states and grant unto them the ease and help of your strong arms.

Thank you God.

Rippling Rhymes

SLANDERED PRUNES.

Though prunes are held to be the symbol of everything that's cheap and base, the man whose brains would fill a thimble must know such taunts are out of place. For prunes are wholesome and nutritious, they brace us up from head to heel, and serpent-wise are cooks who dish us a quart or two at every meal. Oh, prunes are sidestepped, donnerwetter, because of jesters' quips and quirks yet doctors say there's nothing better to regulate the human orks. They have the acids we are needing, the vitamins and things like those, and that rich juice you see them bleeding gives haggard cheeks the tint of rose. And yet we blush when we go shopping, to ask for prunes, of fruits the best; we fear the grocer will be yawping the customary boneless jest. We fear to place prunes on the table when visitors are in the chairs, for haply they may not be able to stifle threadbare jokes of theirs. And thus the helpful prune inherits an odium that keeps it shamed; it cannot advertise its merits, for people yell when it is named. Of prunes I'd chant when other singers are praising roses to the sky; for prunes are daisies, prunes are dingers, when stewed or fried or in a pie.

THREATS ARE RECEIVED

London, June 26.—Premier Lloyd George Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, and Sir Hamar Greenwood, former chief secretary for Ireland, have received anonymous letters threatening them with death if James Connolly and John O'Brien, alleged assassins of Field Marshall Wilson are hanged it was reported this afternoon. Premier Lloyd George refused to confirm the report.

refusal of the Government to permit Maxim Gorki, leading Russian novelist the right to travel in France for failing health. A petition signed by writers, artists, and other public men has been presented to the authorities. Anatole France, Romain Rolland and Henri Barbusse were among those who seconded Gorki's first request.

RAE MARTINA MCKAY AGED SIX IS CALLED BY DEATH

Rae Martina McKay, the six year old daughter of Mrs. Ada T. McKay, died at the home of her grandfather, G. E. McKay, on the Wilmington Pike Sunday evening at 9:45 o'clock. The child had been ill for some time, her illness resulting in her death Sunday. She was the only child of Mrs. McKay, her father, Raymond McKay, preceding her in death a few years ago. She was born September 29, 1916.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at three thirty o'clock, at the late home, with interment at Wilmington.

INFANT DIES SUNDAY

David Junior, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David Linkhart, who reside two miles north of Paintersville, on the Jamestown Pike, died Sunday evening at five o'clock, after an illness of a few days. The child had been ill for the past two days, suffering from summer complaint.

The baby was the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Linkhart and was born March 10. The parents and one sister, Archella, aged 5, survive. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Lumberton, are the child's grandparents.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, at the Lumberton church.

The Kenia Reds lost a free-hitting game 16 to 14 at Wilmington Sunday afternoon.

The game was featured by the fielding of Graham and Richardson for Wilmington and Earle and Chance for the Kenia team. Next Sunday the Reds will play New Burlington on the latter's diamond. In a previous encounter the locals were defeated by New Burlington by a top sided score.

The Reds will meet at the home of Manager Jesse Chambliss Thursday night.

Family of Fourteen Lives in Four Rooms

Mount Vernon, N. Y., June 26.—"We're healthy—healthiest people in town. The kids like it. We like it. People don't know it, but we're happy. We don't live like pigs. We live like kings."

An interpreter translated it this way when a reporter interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Michael Corrigi and Mr. and Mrs. Albanesi, who, with their 12 children, live in a four-room shack here. The Board of Health condemned the place as "dangerous," and ordered the Corrigis and the Albanesis to move within ten days or face prosecution.

Three months ago the home of the two families burned down. They then entered the shack at No. 214 Thirteenth avenue. The shack is a mess, but the twelve children, ranging in age from two to fourteen, are admittedly among the healthiest in the city.

The shack is two stories high and has two rooms on each floor. The Corrigi and their five children live on the first floor and the Albanesis and their five children on the second. Each family uses one room of their apartment for sleeping quarters. The other is dining room, kitchen, library, sun parlor, etc.

MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR CHAUTAUQUA HERE JULY 17-23

Final arrangements for the annual Redpath Chautauqua, to be held in this city, July 17-23, will be completed at the meeting of the Executive Committee to be held in the City Building, Monday night.

At the meeting of the guarantors of the Chautauqua, held in the City Hall, Friday night, final arrangements for the annual offering, were put in the hands of the committee of ten, a committee of which will select the site for the Chautauqua, and make arrangements for the ticket sale.

H. G. Vandivier, advance man for the Chautauqua, was present at the meeting Friday, and conferred with the local people interested in the Chautauqua.

The Chautauqua sessions will begin with the same arrangements as in previous seasons. Children's hours will be held at nine o'clock and three-thirty, the morning lectures to begin at 10 o'clock. The afternoon and evening entertainments will be at three and eight o'clock, respectively.

Season tickets will be good for all sessions, the price being $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children aged from six to fourteen.

The attractions announced for the 1922 season, include the comedy-drama "Friendly Enemies" and "Mikado," with several prominent lecturers and musicians.

The program and final arrangements will be announced later.

THREE GIRLS DROWN WHILE SWIMMING

Youngstown, June 26.—Three young girls were drowned at Coalburg Sunday. Two of the girls lost their lives in an attempt to save the other who was stricken with cramps and sank in 18 feet of water.

The dead are Mildred Weaver, 16, Ethel Johnson, 15; Evelyn Richards, 15.

The victims are daughters of farmers, who live near Coalburg.

Details of the drownings received here are very meager as no one was within half a mile of the tragedy, except several small boys who were playing baseball. One of the girls was seized with cramps and when the others went to her assistance she pulled them under with her.

GIRL SPIES HER PARENTS; SULK IN THE CELLAR

Cincinnati, June 26.—To spite her parents for refusing to let her visit an amusement park alone and avoid punishment, Violet Meyers, pretty ten-year-old school girl, sulked in the unused cellar of her home 1020 Freeman Avenue from Friday until Sunday afternoon without a morsel of food and only an occasional drink of water. In the meantime her frantic parents had appealed to the police to find her saying they feared she had fallen into the park lake and had been drowned.

She made stealthy excursions twice daily to a hydrant in the yard for water. Her little brother, playing in the yard Sunday afternoon saw the cellar door rise apparently on its own accord, as she started to come out on one of these sorties and lost no time in getting to his father with tales of a "spook" under the house. Mr. Myers investigated and found the grimy and famished daughter.

The little lady in the sketch, for example, is very conscious of the picturesqueness of her organdie frock, a pretty shade of forget-me-not blue. The trimming of the sleeves and the vestee are of white pleated net and a violet ribbon around the waist completes a perfect color scheme. The scalloped bottom of the skirt may be finished with self-binding, or the material may be doubled two-thirds up the skirt.

ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY AS AUTO DITCHED SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bookwalter, of Alpha, escaped miraculously with a few scratches and bruises, when the Buick touring car in which they were riding turned over on the Cincinnati pike near Spring Valley at six o'clock Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bookwalter were caught beneath the machine, when the steering apparatus buckled and the car turned over in the ditch along the side of the road, at the same time turning around and heading in opposite direction. The fact that the machine fell straddle of a ditch, one end catching on a barbed wire fence, prevented the occupants from being crushed and passersby assisted them out.

Mr. and Mrs. Bookwalter were on their way to Spring Valley, to visit Mrs. Bookwalter's parents, and were taken the rest of the way by a passing motorist.

ELECTRICS DEFEAT SPRINGFIELD TEAM

Free-hitting and scoring in the early innings enabled the Bayliff Electric to defeat the Springfield Crowell Comets at Washington Street ball yard Sunday afternoon, the final score being 9 to 7.

Both teams were busy at the bat during the early rounds clouting out extra base hits and taking advantage of fielding discrepancies. The visitors, first up in the initial set-to collected two runs after two were out when Sheridan singled to right, took second on a passed ball, and scored on Baughman's double, the latter being plated by Breck's single.

The locals tied the score in their half. W. Bath and M. Leahy each contributed singles to right and Pratt shot a one-base blow to left in the first three times at bat. W. Bath being caught at the throw in. Ritter's single to center scored M. Leahy and Pratt, but Ritter was caught off the bag with a peg to short and Drake whiffed. The visitors added two more in the second when Gordon opened with a triple and scored when Ritter muffed Fowkes' effort. W. Bath threw out Maxton, but Ingledue was safe on Pratt's error. Fowkes, who reached third on a passed ball, scoring. Hankle was thrown out by Ritter and Drake caught Sheridan's fly to right. The locals got one of these runs back in their half when F. Leahy walked and scored on Chambliss' two-base blow.

The electricians iced the farces in the third inning on hits by M. Leahy, Ritter, Bocklet and McDonnell who took Chambliss' place on the mound, six runs resulting in this session, representing the last run-getting of the locals. The visitors added one in the fourth when Gordon hit safely and scored on two walks and scored on an infield out, and their last efforts in the run getting line came in the ninth, when they pushed two runs across the rhoin-boid.

Chambliss, who started the game for the locals, was hit hard in the first two innings, but McDonnell, who relieved him in the third was more effective, the last two runs of the visitors being collected off Cooper, regular hurler, who pitched the last frame, and took things easy.

GOVERNMENT TO INAUGURATE NEW NAVAL RESERVES

Washington — The skeletonized American navy, the smallest among the world's leading naval powers, will be kept ready for emergencies through development of reserve officers at naval camps throughout the country.

A $3,000,000 appropriation in the recent naval bill authorized the establishment of camps for Summer training in the navy, similar to those held by National Guard units in two score States. The Naval Reserve Force, so organized, will give training to 10,000 men and 3,000 officers, who will be ready at all times to be used in emergency combat service.

The Regular Navy of 86,000 men will be far below the strength of recent years, but the officer personnel will be maintained above the four per cent ratio to be used as the nucleus of a greater and swiftly expanding force in event of war. On the new navy rolls there will be 4,431 officers, with a much larger percentage than usual holding high positions.

While there have been attacks on this policy both in the House and Senate proponents of an adequate national defense contended it was provided in the interests of national safety. The 4,431 officers will give the navy 1,000 more officers than it would obtain if the four per cent rule were applied. A majority of these will be placed in higher grades, so that the men upon whose shoulders will fall the responsibility of high command in war shall have a thorough training in executive positions prior to actual war service.

Would Eliminate Hardships. This defense plan, it was stated officially, would eliminate much of the hardships inflicted on the navy during the last war, when there existed a dire shortage of experienced officers for the higher commands. The present officer force, it was explained, would provide enough executives to command a navy of 131,000 immediately, with only the need of additional ensigns and junior lieutenants, the two lowest grades in the navy.

It was pointed out that when America entered the World War, the navy had to make rapid promotions and had to train new men to fill the higher executive commands. With the present reserve force of 3,000 trained officers and the 4,431 regular officers, there would be enough executives to direct a war time navy of approximately 235,000 men, almost the strength of the navy at its peak during the World War.

This officer strength in war-time would be thoroughly trained in modern naval warfare, particularly the use of submarines, destroyers and air craft. There would be sufficient material available to fill every executive position with trained men and to complete the round of fleet commanders without drawing on inexperienced men.

The naval reserve, it was said, would also provide 10,050 trained sailors to fill the non-commissioned posts among the enlisted personnel. This would eliminate another shortage that developed during the World War. In short, the navy, while effecting great economies, will be on a thoroughly prepared basis for swift inflation in time of war.

WAR'S GREATEST HERO "SKY PILOT"

Personality and Letters. The woman who is really charming is the one whose personality is felt even when she is not present. Good looks and nice clothes will make up for a pallid personality while the woman herself is around, but when she is out of the room she is forgotten unless she has something more than a fair complexion and a good figure. Personality is particularly important in letter writing.

Surprisingly few people write good letters. They tell us that letter writing is a dead art, that we modern people are too hurried to sit down and compose a letter. Instead we dash off a note condensing our thoughts into as few words as possible and giving nothing but personal information and gossip. The old fashioned letters that gave the news of the day are rendered unnecessary by modern newspapers and magazines. Nevertheless, even the trivialities that now compose our correspondence should be stamped with the personality of the writer.

It is easier to say this to you than to tell you exactly how you are to become an expert letter writer. Good letter writers, perhaps are born and not made. Certainly the books that tell how to write correct social and business letters will not help, they will only make you more stilted, though they may tell you the proper way of beginning or ending a note.

My advice would be for you to read books of good letters, first and foremost, a translation of Madame Sevigne one of the greatest letter writers in all history, whose charming style and lively point of view are a great contribution to the world's best literature. Read other books of letters, too, and see whether you can inject personality into your own correspondence.

mation is reliable, although there are some experiments being made to remove superfluous hair in mass, instead of the tedious method of extracting the hair singly. If they result in destroying the roots of the hair and not injuring the muscular tissues, they will be one of the greatest blessings women have ever known. These experiments are not in line with X-ray treatment. Send a stamped addressed envelope for directions on using henna.

Fat: As you did not state your height, I cannot be accurate about your weight, but to be 26 and weigh 110 pounds you cannot be too stout. To be in proportion, the bust and hips should have the same measurements and the waist should be ten inches less.

EAST END NEWS

William Henry Anderson, 64, well known Xenia resident, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Windsor, 514 East Second Street, Sunday morning at six fifty o'clock.

Death was caused by a complication of diseases, Mr. Anderson having been ill for some time. He had resided in this city practically all of his life, coming to Xenia when a boy of four years of age.

Beside his mother, he leaves four brothers, John and George of Columbus, and Thomas and Henson, of Xenia. One sister, Mrs. Ella Gaines, of Columbus, also survives.

Mr. Anderson was a member of the East Main Street Christian Church, and was a veteran of the Spanish American War. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. Ella Windsor, wife of John Windsor, brother of Mr. Anderson, died at her home in Columbus, early Saturday morning. Mr. Windsor had come to this city to tell relatives of his wife's death, his brother passing away during his stay here. The remains of Mrs. Windsor were brought to this city Monday, for interment, the time to be announced later.

David Brown, of Lexington Avenue who has for several days been in a serious condition, now shows signs of improvement.

The Spanish-American war veterans will meet, Monday evening, to arrange for the funeral of their comrad, William Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Medley, of Piqua are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ellison of the Jamestown pike.

The final service and celebration of the burning of the mortgage that has for the past 24 years, kept the Zion Baptist Church of this city in debt was observed Sunday. The pastor, Rev. G. W. Becton, preached in the morning service from the sixth chapter of Nehemiah. His subject was "The Divine Hand in Human Affairs."

At the close of the services photographs of the official board of the church together with the leaders of the rally movement and the four surviving members of the thirteen persons who in the construction of the present edifice mortgaged their homes to secure means by which the work could be kept moving were taken.

The surviving members are David Lee, Alexander Morgan, Anna Glass and Julia Byrd.

At the afternoon service, Church Clerk James H. Harris, gave a brief history of many pleasant and unpleasant experiences, connected with the circumstances.

Judge H. L. Smith of the Home Building Association in his splendid address, then told of many interesting experiences in a business way which brought valuable information to many. The evening service closed with the reports of the committee and burning of the mortgage. The total amount received during these six months was $2,218.84. Mrs. A. C. Hawkins was general manager and associated members were Mrs. Carrie Jones and Mrs. Maggie Oglesby.

HONORED BY ART ALLIANCE AT ITS EXHIBIT RECENTLY

Friends in this city of Miss Eileen Smith, of Delaware, Ohio, formerly of this city, will be interested in knowing that she was signally honored by the Art Alliance of America, in its recent exhibit of textile designs and hand decorated textiles held at the club house, 65 East 65th Street, New York City, recently.

Miss Smith submitted four designs to the exhibit, all of which were hung and honorable mention was given to her "pear design" which was immediately bought by Marshall Field and Company, of Chicago. The exhibit was open to all professionals and amateurs in the United States, and Miss Smith was considered fortunate in having the recognition bestowed upon her by such a critical jury.

Two years ago Miss Smith received honorable mention at the exhibit and since then several of her designs have been purchased and printed by Cheney Bros., and Marshall Field and Company.

HORSES SHIPPED FROM FAIRGROUNDS TO OTHER CITIES

A number of the horses that have been receiving their early training at the fairgrounds oval here, have been shipped to other cities for final preparations for the summer campaign, many of them to the Clark County fairgrounds track at Springfield.

Johnny Jones, colored trainer, from Jamestown, is one of those who have shipped their stables to Springfield. The Jamestown trainer, having moved three head from this city. They are Bessie L., 2:11 1-4; Goldie J., 2:12 1-4 and Sammy the Great (8), pacer by Cadence the Great. Jones hopes to have them ready to make their first start at the Grove City meeting.

Orlando Worthington now has his seven head at the Springfield track. The stars of the stable are Willow Dale and Fred Porter, trotters and Neil Direct, a pacer. Billy Darnell is now at Springfield with a green trotter by Ormond, that is the property of Grover Brickle of near Xenia. Paul James of this city has consigned his four-year-old green trotter by The Exponent to the stable of Will Squier at the Springfield track. The trotter is promising as attested to by Frank Hedrick, who worked him several months last summer.

CLOTHES COUNCIL MADE BY DETROIT SCHOOL STUDENTS

Detroit, June 26.—There's no powder or paint on the faces of girls in Central High School's House of Victory, a student organization.

Because of faculty ban? Far from it. The girls themselves have voted it out.

Bobbed hair there is and plenty of it.

"More hygienic than those awful buns the girls used to wear," says Mrs. Grace Jones, principal of the House of Victory.

"You can't handle the modern girl by telling her what to do much less what not to do," Mrs. Jones declares. "We have long realized that at Central and in consequence have developed student government. They tell themselves what to do and there fore do it."

Before Mrs. Jones half a hundred schoolgirl heads, many of them bobbed were bent over lessons.

"You won't find powder or paint here," declared Mrs. Jones. "As for bobbed hair, there is no objection to that. It certainly is more sanitary than buns."

"One of the girls came to school one day wearing knickers. The student government decided that her garb was inappropriate for school wear and so informed her. She did not wear the tabooed garment again."

An open forum is held by the house every Thursday, where discussions include such questions as gum chewing, dress and street car manners. The consensus of opinion is taken by house members as a guide. The house is governed independently by its own staff of officers—president, vice president, secretary and a student council.

FRENCH CONSUL LEARNS GREAT AMERICAN GAME

Paris, June 24.—American friends taught Gustave Ducousse, Chancellor of the French Consulate-General at Mayence, in the occupied area, how to play poker.

Ducousse taught his friends. Yesterday he answered charges of embezzling 40,000 francs in passport charges never recorded in the books of the government.

"Poker did it!" he told the gentlemen who arrested him.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MRS. SARAH BORTON CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Sarah Borton, widow of Joseph Borton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hines, in the Port William neighborhood, Saturday morning at eight o'clock. She was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, and had been in a critical condition since that time.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Hines, of Port William, Mrs. Della Avey, Dayton, and Mrs. Ola Young, of Sligo. Four sons, Leander Borton, McKays Station, Edward Borton, Washington C. H., Joseph Borton of Columbus, and William Borton of Oakland, also survive.

Friends and relatives met at the late home Monday afternoon at one thirty o'clock, services being held at the M. P. Church, at Port William at two o'clock.

SLIPS THROUGH FINGERS OF PARENTS AFTER CAPTURE

Cincinnati, June 26.—Thirteen year old John Dawson, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dawson, Huntington, Va., slipped through the fingers of his parents here again on Sunday when they arrived rejoicing to take him home. The couple has traced John all over Ohio since he ran away from home with a carnival early in the spring after creating a furore by having his friends spread the news that he had been drowned while swimming. He was arrested in Cincinnati last Monday and turned over to the children's home after a wire had been sent to his adopted parents. He escaped from the home on Friday night, the eve of the Dawson's arrival here. The name he gave police was John Gillen.

PERFECT SCHOOL RECORD HELD BY BOSTON MAN

Boston, June 24.—Nicholas Thompson, a sophomore at the College of Business Administration of Boston University, has a perfect school attendance for eight years. He has never been late or absent in 2,080 days. He was given a written guarantee of his record to avoid dispute. Thompson came to this city from Greece eight years ago.

SALSIFY, PARSNIPS AND SPINACH FOR DINNER

Are you familiar with the following ways of serving salsify, parsnips and spinach? If not, I suggest that you try the following dinner menus:

Liver, with Gravy
Boiled Potatoes
Salsify en Casserole
Tomato Salad

Coffee Prune Whip

Salsify en Casserole Salsify is commonly known as the "vegetable oyster" owing to its flavor, which closely approximates that of the oyster. It is related to the lettuce family, although the only edible portion is the long tapering root. It is becoming more of a favorite each year in the home garden.) Wash and scrape a generous bundle of salsify, trim off the ends so as not to have it too long, and put it into cold water to which you have added a little vinegar. Now drain and place the vegetable in a pot of boiling salted water, to boil for about an hour—till tender. Drain once more and put it into a frying pan in which four slices of bacon, cut into small pieces, are frying over a hot fire. Blend together three tablespoons of butter and four tablespoons of flour in a small saucepan, on the range, and add to this saucepan two cups of boiling water, salt and pepper to suit taste, and bring to a brisk boil. Then pour this boiling liquid into the frying pan, over the salsify, and let all simmer together for 30 minutes. Serve very hot.

Spinach Salad: This is made with cold, left-over spinach. Moisten the seasoned spinach with a simple French dressing and mix into it diced hard boiled eggs (using one egg to one cup of spinach.) Then press the mixture into small china cups, or molds, to harden. Just before serving, turn out each little mold onto individual salad plates, which are covered with lettuce leaves and cover each green mound with boiled Mayonnaise salad dressing. (If this dressing send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my full page sheet entitled "Eight Good Salad Dressings.")

Pomeroy, June 26.—Elsa Hermann, owner of the only pleasure airplane in the lower valley, has nothing but wreckage now. He is lucky to be alive. While soaring about 4,000 feet in the clouds, his motor died. He was forced to land where he could. This happened to be in a deep ravine. People who saw the drop, dug the pilot out of the debris.

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE PHLEPS

In the "Big Town."

CHAPTER 2.

As Nellie Reilly stepped from the train in New York she followed the crowd. The suitcase seemed heavier than it had the night before. Sitting up in a coach all night isn't conducive to freshness the next morning, but she tugged along after the crowd with it, scorning the porters who offered to take it from her.

"Might steal my jewels," she muttered to herself, her eyes wide with surprise and delight. She knew New York was big—the boarders had said so, and the Sunday papers that occasionally drifted to the Corners had been treasured and the supplements, picture and magazine sections come over until worn out. But neither the boarders nor the newspapers had given her any idea of the rush and bustle of the hurrying crowd.

When she emerged from the station she stood still, dazed, almost frightened. Her brave little heart quickened with excitement. Such wide streets, people dashing madly to and fro, such high buildings, so many street cars and automobiles, that seemed inextricably tangled up one minute only to go gayly on their separate ways the next.

She saw signs: "Rooms for Rent," even as she stood gazing at the unwonted signals. But she had no idea of going blindly into a rooming house. She had heard the dangers of New York discussed by the traveling men as she waited upon them, gaining a scolding from Miss Carter because she lingered overlong when serving. No indeed she would ask a policeman. They would direct her where to go.

Fortunately for Nellie, she asked the first officer she saw. It happened to be Terrance O'Connor, one of the best natured and whitest men on the force.

"Sure I can help you!" he said heartily when Nellie explained her need, adding that she had $25 to keep her until she got a job. She wasn't going to have this nice policeman think she hadn't any money.

"Hang on to it tight, kid, it won't go far in this town," he said looking more keenly at her as he scribbled a few words on an envelope he had from his pocket.

"You go to that place it ain't far. Tell Mrs. Dooley that Terry O'Connor sent you. She's a decent sort and won't ro you and what's more her house's respectable. And"—as Nellie was about to speak—"go slow with that $25. Sometimes it takes longer than you think it's going to to land a job."

"Thank you, Mr. O'Connor. I knew if I asked a policeman I would be all right," Nellie replied then hurried away.

"Bless the innocent!" She did, did she?" and he chuckled, and then sighed, as he helped an old lady lady across the street, then swore at a taxi driver who nearly knocked down a lame newsboy.

The moment Nellie mentioned Terrance O'Connor, Mrs. Dooley was a changed person. She had been rather short, seemed inclined to refuse to take Nellie in until she saw the envelope the officer had written her address upon, and which also had been addressed to him.

"Sure I got a room for you, dearie, if Terry O'Connor sent you—a nice little room on the third floor for only $4 a week, and one a bit smaller on the fourth at $2.50."

"I'll take the top floor one, please. 'Til always gets paid in advance Miss—"

"Riley, my name's Nellie Riley." She counted out the money into the outstretched hand.

"And mine's Dooley! Both of us French—eh?" she laughed heartily, Nellie joining her.

The room was tiny, depressing, shabby but fairly clean. It was past noon and Nellie was hungry, so after bathing her face and running a comb through her curls, she hurried out for something to eat.

"I'll fix my things, unpack my trunk this afternoon," she said aloud "then in the morning I'll go after a job. I guess bed'll look and feel good to me tonight. Sleeping in them trains may be all right when you get used to it, but it ain't no joke till you are. I ache all over."

She found a place to eat and being young, healthy and hungry, ordered a good meal, without thinking of asking for price. When her check came she paid it gamely enough but as she went back to her room she said:

"Stomach, you better make the most of that meal. You'll never have another one like it! Bread and tea for you—till I get a job."

Nellie always talked to herself, or to imaginary things and people; perhaps because most of her life she had had no one else to talk to.

Tomorrow—The Search for a Position

Poor Richard Said—

"A PENNY saved is a penny earned." In his day pennies were as large as our quarters. Yet all the pennies in the world wouldn't have taken Poor Richard to a movie, bought him a flivver, or paid his street car fare. The pennies of a hundred years ago were not as big in buying power as those of today.

But Poor Richard's advice is still good. And it is no less valuable when applied to dollars instead of cents.

Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you earn. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat, house furnishings, garden seeds, tools and what not.

There's just one way to save money in making your purchases. Know what you want before you buy. Read the advertisements. They tell you what is new and good. They tell you where and when to buy to best advantage. They help keep you posted on what the stores and manufacturers are offering.
